OBJECTIVES

Looking to expand my skills into full-stack development or to progress into a senior front-end role.

FRONT END DEVELOPER, ROUTENOTE LTD

(August 2019 – )
I initially worked as one of many developers, but became the sole in-house developer in July 2021. Below are the projects I worked on during my employment:

BROCHURE SITE
Updated RouteNote's brochure to a modern, responsive site using Sketch designs for reference. Content ranged from simple text and images to bespoke animations & dynamic tables across dozens of pages.
Also localised the new brochure for a Korean audience, with help, text translations, and advice from RouteNote's branch in Seoul. The Korean brochure has unique tweaks to its styles to accommodate the change in language.
As of 2023 site gets ~1 million views per month.

USER PORTAL
With the pages of a new User Portal being built by an out-of-house team in India, I was tasked with creating a functioning component library for them to build pages from. Components varied from buttons & links through form fields & menus up to containing frames – all built to receive and transmit information needed by the India team.

BLOGS
Edited the Wordpress themes of a series of RouteNote blogs to match the site's updated branding. These blogs support the main RouteNote site by offering help with the site or by displaying news on music distribution targeted towards music artists and other creators.

PUSH.FM
Helped with development of PUSH.fm, subsidiary website of RouteNote designed to help creatives of all stripes promote their work through different campaigns.
Contributions include tweaking its brochure page and dashboard and creating/editing a number of its components such as tooltips and data visualisation cards.
